Many Club Women Meet In Sonoma On Vallejo Day

Fair School Teachers Of Sonoma Valley Are June Brides

BRILLIANT EVENT IS CELEBRATED AT LACHRYMA MONTIS

General Vallejo Honored Friday of Last Week; Annual Gathering Addressed by Noted Men.

The annual observance of Vallejo Day, on which occasion the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club honors General M. G. Vallejo's place in California history, was an event of Friday of last week in Sonoma and was largely attended. The affair took place in the gardens of the historic Vallejo homestead, where an interesting program was carried out under the direction of the History and Landmark Section of the club.

The program was as follows:

Opening remarks, Mrs. Celeste G. Murphy.

"Sonoma's Place in the History of California," Senator Herbert Slater of Santa Rosa.

"A Tribune From One Who Knew the General," Otto von Geldern of San Francisco.

Spanish Dance and Revue and "California, Here I Come," Alfreda Smith and chorus.

Song. "Marcheta," Mrs. Lulu Vallejo Emparan.

Remarks by Assemblyman Fulwider Rev. Isaac Cookman, Mayor Minges, Rev. S. E. Crowe and Father J. F. Byrne.

Address, George M. Barron, curator of Golden Gate Park Museuum.

Violin solo, "Danse Espanol," Lyle Campbell.

Senator Slater paid tribute to the Woman's Club for its recognition of General Vallejo and its reverence of the history and landmarks of this county. He praised the pioneer spirit and dwelt on Vallejo's open-hearted hospitality, his generosity and constructive genius in the upbuilding of his state. His family and the hostess of Lachryma Montis, the old home, were paid a pretty compliment by the Senator.

Barron gave a sketch of General Vallejo's career and praised his generous traits and good-will toward the Americans when California was still under the Mexican regime. He spoke of the part he played as a member of the first constitutional congress assembled at Monterey and of the im-

SUPERVISORS RACE IS WARMING UP

With the nomination papers of Supervisor Fred Lowell, incumbent, in circulation for signatures to place him on the ballot for re-election, and with R. R. Emparan's reiteration this week that he is to contend for the place on the Board, the supervisor's race in this district is warming up.

E. A. Wagner of Boyes Springs is also a contender so the contest will be a three-cornered one, from all indications.

Supervisor Lowell is the predicted winner, although friends of the other candidates declare they will give him a surprise. Emparan is widely known, belongs to several fraternal orders and is counting on the ladies' vote.

Breitenbach Takes A Joy Ride Sunday

George Breitenbach, pioneer Sonoma business man, shook the dust of the valley Sunday long enough for a pleasant motor trip to Lake county with the Potter-Rubke party. Mr. Breitenbach does not "step out" very often, but certainly enjoyed his visit to Lake couunty and the picnic on the shores of beautiful Clear Lake. Sonoma's harness maker and former city trustee still believes the bicycle to be the most reliable animal a man can drive, but after his joy ride it is said he has been converted and will soon order a "flivver."

SENIOR BALL ENDS JOYOUS SCHOOL WEEK

The Senior ball at the high school auditorium last Saturday night proved a brilliant close to commencement week and brought together a large number of graduates, students, and parents, as guests of the class of 1924.

The auditorium with its ideal dancing floor, proved a revelation to the old grads, who tripped the light fantastic along with the younger class members as they renewed friendships.

The school colors, red and blue, were woven into a colorful canopy over the heads of the dancers, crepe paper streamers being effctively used by the decorators. Graceful ferns banked the stage, where the numeral '24 was outlined in flowers. A jazzy trio composed of Mrs. E. Perkins, Cecil Hunter and H. Tracy furnished the music for dancing.

Throughout the evening delicious pineapple punch was served by a bevy of matrons from the Parent-Teachers' Association.

At intervals on the dance program were clever numbers by students and a violin solo by Professor Lyle F. Campbell. "The End of the Rainbow" was a poetic one-act play staged very prettily and well acted by Grace Barr, Willard Cole and Norman Heggie.

Refreshments were announced by Miss Lucille Sorini, and guests of the Seniors were admitted by card o a class room on the upper floor where ice cream and home made cakes were served buffet style.

From every standpoint the Senior ball was a success and the class of 1924 and faculty is to be congratulated as is also Miss Leola Forni, social manager of the school, who arranged the details of the delightful affair.

CONSULTS UNIVERSITY AUTHORITY ON WELL

Louis Parente, who plans one of the most palatial swimming tanks and bathing resorts in California, if he can strike hot mineral water on his Verano property, has consulted scientists at the University of California who will inspect his present well, now down 300 feet, and tell him if the lukewarm water therefrom gives evidence of water of a higher temperature. The scientists will also go over adjacent ground and determine if the hot water strata is in evidence.

Stewart Fruit Co. Began Work Wednesday; Gravenstiens to Be Packed Next Week

The Sonoma Valley 1924 apple crop will soon be finding its way into the market, the Stewart Fruit Company having started to pack Astrakans and Alexander varieties on Wednesday of this week. W. Porterfield, the Sonoma district manager and Mr. Collins, foreman, are in charge of the packing house at Vineburg and predict an excellent pack this season, both of apples and pears. They declare the outlook for the Bartlett pear crop exceedingly good.

The Sonoma Valley Apple Growers Association will start packing Gravensteins the coming week. A meeting has been called for Monday night, to which all growers, whether members of the association or not, are invited. The new Standardization Act will be explanned by Messrs. Bremner and Beasley, who will give out important and necessary information. The growers will meet at Vineburg Hall.

The big packing house of the association is in the experienced hands this year of H. V. Vorhies, of Watsonville, expert fruit man who has had wide experience in both growing and packing in the Pajaro Valley. Mr. Vorhees has been here for the past month installing an up-to-date gravity conveyor and other equipment, which will facilitate the pack this year

R. E. Perkins, the experienced accountant, will be in charge of the bookkeeping department at the busy fruit center this year.

The packing house expects to employ many local people and work will be in full swing by July 5th.

SIGNERS ASK PART OF GAS TAX FOR CITIES

A petition has been in circulation in Sonoma this week for the initiative measure which would add Section 15 to Article XIII of the Constitution of California, to read, in substance, as follows:

"The legislature may impose and collect registration and license fees and license taxes on the distributors of gasoline or other volatile liquids for propelling motor vehicles. After deducting and retaining expenses of collection and distribution, the money received from such fees and taxes shall be distributed onwarrants drawn by the State Comptroller as follows:

"One-half to the state, and one-half to the counties of the state in the proportion which the number of motor vehicles registered in each of said counties bears to the total number of such vehicles registered in the state. All money thus received by the counties shall be distributed by each county as follows:

"To each of the incorporated cities and towns therein, if any, a sum in the proportion which the number of motor vehicles registered within each of said cities and towns bears to the total number of vehicles registered in the county, and the amount remaining after such distribution to the general road fund of the county. The Motor Vehicle Department of the state to make record of owners cities and until such record is made amount to be distributed by counties to towns shall be in proportion which assessed valuation of property for county taxation purposes in each of said cities bears to total assessed valuation of property in county. All money distributed to state, county and municipalities under this section shall be used exclusively for the construction and maintenance of public highways, bridges, culverts or subways inside or outside their respective boundaries."

Under this act Sonoma City which could use the money to good advantage would be entitled to its share of the gas tax.

COMMITTEE OF NINE IS COMING THIS WAY

The committee of nine, serving with out pay and authorized by the last legislature to make a study of the state highway system and its needs, is coming this way. The distinguished party, so Secretary Mixon of the State Highway Commission announces, will leave Monday for Marin, Sonoma, Mendocino and Humboldt counties. The famous Redwood Highway from its start at Sausalito will be inspected and later recommendations made regarding the entire route.

The method of financing future road building looms as a big question before the committee. All state work except that now under way has been stopped because funds have given out. The gasoline tax money can be used for up-keep only.

BOYES SPRINGS HAS A TAMMANY HALL

Little old New York has nothing on Boyes Springs which now has a Tammany Hall, the cigar store of George Cause having fallen heir to the name which made Manhattan famous. The retired fire chief plans to make his place the rendevous of politicians of the district and between smokes, platforms and political dope can be discussed ad lib. Now that the ladies vote and smoke too, all will be welcome and will be assured courteous and polite treatment by Mr. Cause who is always gallant and genial.

"The slates we will make
And the bets we will take,
Will make Tammany quake."

CECIL HUNTER HAD MAJOR OPERATION

Cecil Hunter, son of the City Treasurer and popular saxaphone artist. is at the General Hospital in Petaluma where he underwent a major operation this week. The patient is doing nicely and his mother is visiting Petaluma friends to be near him during his illness.

Who Wants Contract To Paint Siren?

Wanted—a landscape painter who will paint the fire siren, which is all up in the air because it has not yet received a coat, nor has there been any attempt at local color so far. The siren hollers its head off in vain, but no paint. The telephone company placed the new contrivance on the tower several weeks ago, so that the painting could be done, but as yet no aerial artist has appeared to decorate it. Page Will Downey or Mayor Fred Bulotti. Don't all climb at once!

MRS. SOITO OF BOYES ASKS $5000 DAMAGES

A rift in the lute of this year's Boyes Springs Carnival when rivalry in the queen contest broke up the committees and led to open warfare between the contestants, has culminated in a slander suit for $5000, filed by Mrs. M. A. Soito against Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith of Coney Island.

Mrs. Soito, who is the mother of Harriet Hunt, one of the pretty little girls who was out for queen, alleges in a complaint filed at Santa Rosa, that Mrs Smith, mother of the dancer and the May-pole queen defamed her in a conversation to which there were witnesses.

The case originally came before Judge Small in the local justice court as a disturbing the peace charge. The incident which precipitated the complaint filed in Small's court was the result of a row at the Flowery school house last April in which the children of the warring factions, Mrs. Smith and the teachers were principals, the latter seeking to quiet the belligerants. Mrs. Smith was advised to plead guilty by Judge Small in order to close the incident without dragging too many school children, the teachers and others into the fracas. The defendant followed the advice of the court and was given a suspended sentence.

Mrs. Soito sought to bring the slander phase of the case before Judge Small, but was advised that this action was a superior court matter. She has therefore filed the present suit.

The defendants, Mr. and Mrs. Smith are caretakers at Coney Island since the property has been in the hands of a receiver. They are experienced show people and were to have had charge of all the concessions at the Boyes Springs carnival, which was finally postponed owing to the highway construction.

Mrs. Soito, who has filed the slander suit against them, has been a resident of Boyes Springs for several years past and is a member of a promient family of Contra Costa county.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN AND SILO

An early morning fire of undetermined origin destroyed the barn and silo of George Carpenter Thursday. Fortunately, Carpenter had no stock in the barn, having sold his cows last week. Little or no insurance was carried on the property.

POPULAR YOUNG LADIES WED SONOMA MEN

Miss Cora Adams Weds A. Maffei Wednesday; Miss Perle Fallon and Dr. Millerick Married.

A. Maffei, member of the firm of Maffei Brothers, popular Elk and Native Son, claimed Miss Cora Adams, pretty Schellville school teacher, as his bride Wednesday afternoon of this week. The ceremony was quietly performed at the parochial residence of Rev. J. F. Byrne in the presence of a few relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Picchi, brother-in-law and sister of the groom, attended the happy couple who left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding tour in the groom's car. The bride wore a modish traveling costume of tan, with hat and shoes to match.

Upon their return from the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Maffei will reside at the handsome home of Mr. Maffei on Napa Street East.

Mrs. Maffei, the bride, is the third San Luis school teacher who has resigned her position to wed in the past three or four years.

Fallon-Millerick Wedding

Many friends and relatives gathered at St. Vincent's church, in Petaluma, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock to witness the impressive double wedding ceremony which was performed for the Misses Pearl and Eva Fallon and Dr. George Millerick and Cornelius Larsen, by Rev. Father J. F. Byrne and which was followed by a nuptial mass.

The Misses Fallon are the charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Fallon, of Petaluma.

The approach of the wedding party was announced by the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march by Miss Mary McCarthy.

The ushers, Sherman Smith and Lawrence Fallon, preceeded the wedding party, and were followed by the Misses Ruby and Dora Fallon, who were gowned in yellow voile, with hats of corresponding color. They carried bouquets of pink sweet peas. The grooms and best men met the brides and parties at the altar.

The brides were given into the keeping of their husbands by their

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

William Dowdall of San Francisco was a Sunday visitor with El Verano relatives.

R. R. Emparan has announced that he has definitely decided to make the race for supervisor in the First District, which includes Penngrove, Cotati and the Valley of the Moon. Emparan, who is a native of Sonoma and has resided there all his life, should be a hard opponent in the race for the plum, as he has a large number of friends. For the past several years he has been a deputy assessor in Sonoma Valley and has handled this position in a most capable manner. He is a grandson of the late General Vallejo and his many friends are pleased to learn that he will be a candidate. The other men out for the job are E. A. Wagner of Boyes Springs and F. A. Lowell, the incumbent. With three in the race, the writer anticipates a hot contest, as all are good campaigners. May the best man win.

The good old summer time is on and the hot weather and balmy climate of the Valley of the Moon has brought out many visitors to spend their annual vatation here. Noticable among them to the writer are the pretty San Francisco fairies, who, with their bobbed hair are conspicuous to one who has spent a quiet winter in El Verano. The dance at the El Verano Villa is running big, and so folis Mohr's movie show, which is held on Friday evenings. Already all rooms and accommodations are reserved for over the Fourth of July which falls on Friday, giving the visitors three days in which to enjoy themselves and visit the various famous springs before returning to their city homes.

Two carloads of brick shipped from Oakland were unloaded at the S. P. yards Saturday to be used in the new addition to the Sonoma Grammar School.

Congressman Clarence F. Lea passed through El Verano Monday enroute to Santa Rosa. Lea will be a candidate to succeed himself at the coming primaries and the wise ones predict he will win at the August election.

R. C. Lippi of San Francisco was a visitor with his folks, who are vacationing at Coney Island.

G. Verbeck, Sonoma tailor, motored to Berkeley Sunday. On his return he was accompanied by his wife, who had been visiting with relatives, with whom she made a trip to Yosemite during her visit.

Milton Cooper and family and Joe Bonaparte of San Francisco are vacationing at their summer cottage at Boyes Springs. Mr. Cooper is manager of the Peterson Launch and Tugboat Company and a former Sonoma boy. His many old time friends are welcoming him to the Valley of the Moon.

Rex Anstead, 12 year old Kenwood boy, was drowned at the swimming tank at Kenwood Springs on last Saturday evening. In company with a playmate the little fellow had gone to the plunge and the circumstances of the accident are unknown. The boy's father conducts a garage at Kenwood.

Edmond Debats, El Verano songster, received a big ovation at the El Verano Villa Sunday evening when he sang several popular songs. The summer girls are just wild over the French idol.

A motor bus with 25 passengers from Lake Tahoe motored to the Valley of the Moon Sunday, taking in the springs section and other points of interest.

William Sutter, who is employed at San Quentin, is in town visiting relatives.

M. Plassidon and daughter of San Francisco have been spending the week in El Verano.

Mrs. Maurice O'Dowd and family are spending the vacation months at their summer cottage. They live in San Francisco.

Politics are booming in El Verano this week, owing to the great Democratic pow-wow being pulled off in New York City. The choice for the Bourbon nomination is Governor Al Smith of New York, who in the writer's opinion, if nominated will be the next president of the United States. If a dark horse or McAdoo heads the ticket, it is a foregone conclusion that President Coolidge will landslide back to the presidential chair. The supervisorial fight is being discussed here and the wise ones wwho figure the dope look for an interesting fight and close vote at the coming primaries.

Mrs. J. P. Court of San Francisco was looking over property interests and visiting friends here over the last week end.

Granville Harris, pioneer Sonoma resident, was here last Saturday meeting old time friends who were glad to see him. Harris in the old days conducted the Sonoma livery stable.

Mrs. P. Rossi, Mrs. A. Nonella and Albert Rossi were motor visitors to Santa Rosa last Tuesday.

Professor Landrun, school teacher of Sierra City and a property owner at Sonoma Vista, was a visitor in El Verano this week, stopping at the Joe Hayman home south of town.

A. L. Gale, S. P. station agent, while on his ranch in the western foot hills last Sunday, was attacked by an angry bull belonging to him. To scare the furious animal away, Mr. Gale lunged at him with a pitch fork, whereupon the bull made a rush at his owner, who made his get-away into a barn. Just as the Gale was entering the barn, the bull hit the door with a force which shook the entire structure and catching Gale's leg in

Why pay tribute to a superstition?

ZEROLENE-LUBRICATED CARS WIN SIX OUT OF SEVEN YOSEMITE ECONOMY RUN TROPHIES

Does Zerolene "stand up"? The drivers of the four cars that won six of the seven trophies in the 1924 Los Angeles-Camp Curry (Yosemite) Economy Run say so.

Of the five Zerolene-lubricated cars entered in the race, four carried off prizes, including the sweepstakes won by the Overland, model 92. Six of the seven trophies offered went to cars using Zerolene. And incidentally, the oil consumption recorded by the official checks was remarkably small.

The sweepstakes winner writes:

"In spite of the intense heat to which the motor was subjected, when the ultimate check was made I found greatly to my surprise that the gauge showed absolutely no use of oil whatsoever. I attribute my success in winning the 1924 Yosemite Economy Sweepstakes greatly to the use of Zerolene in the motor and Red Crown gasoline in the tank."—Joe Bozzani.

Isn't it time to dismiss forever the superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about eastern oils, merely because they cost more and are made in the East? Experienced drivers, out to make economy records, don't share that superstition—why should you?

Insist on Zerolene—a better oil—even if it does cost less.

BURRIS GOES SOUTH FOR PARK DEDICATION

Frank M. Burris left for Hanford, Kings county, this week to attend the dedication of Burris Park, which was a gift to the county from the sons of the late David and Julia Burris. The young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burris, Miss Mamie Burris, presented the deed at the exercises yesterday which marked the formal taking over of the picturesque acreage by the supervisors.

A recent news item in the Hanford paper described the park and improvements as follows:

"Burris park, recently acquired by the county through gift from the Burris brothers is being improved for the accommodation of the public and many conveniencesc will soon be installed that will transform it into an ideal picnic and pleasure spot.

"A dance pavilion 100 feet long by 50 feet wide is nearing completion and a brick and cement pit for barbecue use has been built. There is a splendid well on the grounds, and later tables will be placed. There are a number of other improvements in prospect, among which is a swimming pool, and a lagoon for boating is also planned.

"The park is reached from the main road by a rather picturesque roadway which winds and curves as it follows the river bank to the park proper. The road, which is amply wide, has been oiled and is in very good condition.

After having been closed for several weeks as a part of foot and mouth control measures, the park was again thrown open to the public a few days ago. During the day there were visitors at the grounds from all parts of the county. Many enjoyed picnic lunches, and various games and sports were in progress during the day.

"The site of the park is one of the most primative along the Kings river, its peculiar location having kept it free from the encroachment of farming operations. The virgin soil is producing wild roses and there are other ornamental plants and shrubs that grow only where they have been untouched by latter day activities. In the park there will be preserved beautiful groves of oak which would otherwise be threatened with destruction.

A TIMELY WARNING ON WATER

The water shortage in Sonoma Valley this year is acute despite the fact that we have some of the finest springs and most magnificient artesian wells in California.

Here in the City of Sonoma, supplied by the natural springs on the Vallejo place (springs which have never failed in their yield of the finest quality water which could be exacted) there is danger now that can only be averted by the most careful usage on the part of consumers. The danger point is plain at the end of these summer days when the water is lowered beyond the lowest point ever before known. In case of a big fire and need of extra supply, the situation would be alarming, if not tragic. Water users must not run water to waste in their gardens, over-supply their bath tubs or otherwise allow big quantities of water to go down the sewer.

The situation is really serious. Be careful, everyone.

MOSQUITOES! ABATE THEM

That summer is here comes home strong to residents of the lower part of Sonoma Valley, when the pesky mosquito gets in its work. The summer visitor grins and bears, or perhaps, cusses and scratches, according to temperament. The tax payer scratches his head and ponders: where have I seen that word mosquito before? On the last tax bill: Mosquito Abatement Special Tax. Who is abating the buzzing brute? The question is a timely one for there is a fund for settling the hash of the pestiferous mosquito and his haunts should be run down and given a dose of the stuff that made Teapot Dome so famous.

THIS NEW HIGHWAY A TRIUMPH

The outstanding feature of the week's news in America was the successful flight of Maughan, the aviator, across the continent in 17 hours. The pioneers who made their way across the plains in covered wagons in the fifties never dreamed in the wildest flight of imagination, this accomplishment of 1924. While science has a triumph to its credit, a wreath must also be put upon the brow of modern man, for the achievement is a credit to his grit, sportsmanship and perseverence. Lieutenant Maughan has proved beyond doubt the possibility and practicability of aviation.

ORGANIZE CALIENTE PARK FIRE DEPT.

On May 25th the Caliente Park Fire Department was organized at a meeting in the Perkins home on Mountain avenue. The plans were outlined by Charles Perkins, Jr., and it was decided to take up the plan at once. The result has been that on June 21st the apparatus was placed in commission, hydrants installed, etc. This is a record for quick action and goes to show what can be done when a number of progressive citizens decide to make an improvement. The equipment consists of a hose wagon, 250 feet of hose and hydrants placed 200 feet apart. The company will be known as Hose Cart No. One, Caliente Park Fire Department. At a recent test a fire fighting stream was thrown a distance of from 50 to 60 feet. The test was made on the auxiliary system. In a week or so the high pressure tank will be ready, which will give the system two tanks.

This fire company has been in the making for the past five years by Charles Perkins, who had plans drawn up that far back. Today it is a reality much to the satisfaction of al. The section covered by Hose Company No. One is known as Subdivision No. 2, Caliente Park, and certain places where fire hydrants are located. With one 24,000 gallon tank and another high pressure tank of 5000 gallons capacity, this department will prove of great help to this locality. N. M. Peterson, proprietor of the water system is to be congratulated on his efficient water system, which has made it possible to secure this splendid fire protection. If other sections will follow the example set by this organization and merely utilize the water supply they have at present, a very good fire protection can be had at small cost. It is the uncontrolled small fires that make the big ones. One good stream of water flowing 60 gallons of water a minute will go a long way towards preventing a serious fire.

The company was organized by Charles Perkins, Jr., N. M. Peterson and Les Perkins. It was made possible by donations from the following citizens: T. Scalioni, Chase Lippi, E. Pearson, A. Johnson, N. M. Peterson, Charles Perkins, Jr., L. Northmore, William Nau, A. Neuendorf, R. W. Gibson, E. Edwards, C. W. Perkins, Sr., Georgge Toth, C. R. Wise. George Fetters, W. Lathrop, Mrs. C. H. Wheeler, Mrs. A. J. Lippe, Mrs. M. A. Stearns, Mrs. Les Perkins and Mrs Laughtron.

Lumber for the hose wagon was donated by James Kearney of the Sonoma Valley Lumber Company.

Chassis for the hose wagon donated by E. G. Perkins.

NATIONAL AUTO CLUB GIVES GOOD SERVICE

The service units of the National Automobile Club, through which the organization offers a new type of road protection to the motorist, now blanket the state, according to J. H. Murray, representative of the National Automobile Club here.

The free tow service, a practical kind of motor car and touring insurance, is entirely different from service offered by other automobile organizations. Instead of employing a fleet of cars owned by a single company, the National Automobile Club employs garages at strategic points all over the state to take care of members who find themselves in need of assistance on the road. A car is always within call.

There are no zone restrictions. No matter where the motorist finds himself in need of assistance, the National Automobile Club service will take care of his needs. The tourist does not have to compute his distance from town in order to find out whether he will have to pay for services rendered or to find out whether he is within distance prescribed for free service. From the Oregon line to the Mexican border the National Automobile Club provides thorough touring protection for its members.

Membership applications are pouring in from all parts of the state and an extra staff of mailers have been set to work at the northern and southern headquarters sending out the club emblems, loose-leaf touring guides, and membership cards.

portant laws he helped draft for the state of California. The wisdom of the laws is evidenced by the fact that most of them still remain a part of the statutes. He praised the framers of these laws who gathered in the then gay center of Monterey and although surrounded by the diverting and alluring freedom of the times and the attractions such as faro, monte and the fandango, were oblivious to all else but the important duty of putting California on a basis of law and order. General Vallejo proved his virtues and ability at many crises in California's transition from Mexican to American rule, declared Mr. Barron, and was given deserved recognition by both governments. He spoke of his work in compiling the history of the various counties and the derivation of their names, which is an important record in the archives of our state. Vallejo's only fault, if it can be so called, said the speaker, was his prodigal generosity. "His purse-string was held by a cobweb." "An outstanding figure in the history of California, Sonoma may well honor him," concluded this brilliant speaker and authority on California history.

California hospitality was in evidence throughout the afternoon, Mrs. Elizabeth Crane, club hostess, serving delicious fruit punch and at the conclusion of the program ice cream and home made cakes. Mrs. A. M. Thomson, Miss Celia Thomson and Melvin Thomson, grand-daughter and great grandchildren of Vallejo, assisted Mrs. Crane.

Club women from as far north as Cloverdale attended and there were also visitors from Eastern states.

Otto von Geldern, boyhood friend of Vallejo and eminent civil engineer of San Francisco, sent regrets at being unable to attend. His beautifully written tribute to the General is published elsewhere in these columns.

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE LATE GENERAL VALLEJO

By OTTO von GELDERN

There is nothing I should have like to have done more than to be present with you today and to add my mite to the eulogy which is to be paid to one of the greatest men of our state, the late General M. G. Vallejo.

Unfortunately I cannot be with you in person; the best that I am able to do under the circumstances is to write down a few words expressing my personal affection and admiration for this illustrious character.

While it is a fact that what I know of the historic past of the late General is obtained from the same sources that are available to any one of you, I do hold this advantage:that I knew him personally, that I came into frequent contact with him and with the members of his family when I was a boy and a young man, and what I do know of him involves the personal charm of his individuality, the urbane and inimitable dignity of his deportment ond the honorable and righteous method of his thoughts and actions. Of all this I can speak as a living witness because I saw so many evidences of these characteristics that I need not go into historic records to look for them; they were impressed upon my mind continuously through many years.

The turbulent spirit of our pioneer days brought to the front many prominent men; strong characters they all were, men who did great things and of whom we have every reason to be proud. They, too, were gentlemen, even though many of them were or had become rough and apparently unpolished by reason of their contact with a crude and material environment; but General Vallejo, the foremost man of that pioneer period, retained the same dignity, the same inimitable deportment and the same exterior of delightful courtesy through all his active public life, even through adversities when he had the right to question the rude behavior of men whom he had actually befriended.

My early memory of him and his interesting family goes back to the middle sixties when I was a school boy in the old town of Sonoma. School boys are peculiar philosophers. They take very kindly to older people who treat them with kindness or consideration, and they bear the names of those who were good to them in their memory as long as they live. The General, for whom we all had the most profound respect, was full of consideration for an obscure boy like myself; he would speak to me with the same courtesy by which he had endeared himself to all those who knew him. This made an indelible impression upon me, and I shall always remember with great pleasure, and with a full sense of gratitude, the many delightful conversations I had with him, sitting under these very trees that surround you now, where he himself was wont to sit after he had one into that philosophic retirement which he enjoyed to the end of his historic life.

At the time of which I now speak all the pioneer families were represented by their older members, like the Haraszthys, the Warfields, Rodgers, Poppes, Appletons, Dresels, Duhrings, Aguillons, Faures, Lubecks, and many others, including the members of my own family, who had made Sonoma their permanent home, because the beauty of the valley, the delightful climate and the peaceful life of the old Mexican families appealed to them, and they seemed to be willing to forego the strenuous bustle of the immense development of the state which was going on all around them.

The central figure of this more or less pastoral existence was the good old General. He, of all men, was the embodiment of it. I knew all the members of his family: Don Salvador, his brother; Senora Vallejo, the charming and gracious mother of the sons and daughter of the General, and most of the sons and daughters themselves from Andronico, a musical genius and a man of talent and accomplishments, to the handsome Ula and the younger male member, Napoleon, whom I met very frequently in recent years, until he died in San Francisco about a year ago. Of the ladies I remember the beautiful Govita, the wife of Arpad Haraszthy; Natalia, wife of his brother, Attila; Adela, wife of Doctor Frisbee, and Lulu and Maria, who were then very little girls. Doctor Platon I met later on in Vallejo, where I also made the acquaintance of the members of General Frisbee's family.

Visits to General Vallejo's home were frequent. In time it became a historic object of pilgrimage, and every stranger who betook of our hospitality was taken out to Lachryma Montis to meet the General and his delightful family.

To be invited to dinner was a great privilege. It was then that one could note with what extreme courtesy and exquisite charm the General would relate reminiscences of his eventful life. interspersed with anecdotes that made us all very interested listeners.

For instance, I can see the old General as the host of his table, drinking a toast to the ladies in the ruby colored wine of the valley as a cavallero and chivalrous knight, but it is utterly impossible for me to imagine him leaning against a bar, with his foot on a brass rail. This interesting pastime, I shall admit, most of us have indulged in, including myself, but I cannot stretch my visionary capacity far enough to imagine the dignified General ever doing such a thing. It would have been as impossible for him as to chew gum.

The comparison shows how undignified one may become, and how much we need a character like that of the late General for our emulation and as an example to correct behavior, which, taken all in all, may be summarized in a few words: "To be considerate of the feelings of others."

I have in mind now the Bear Flag episode in 1846. This occurrence has become historic, and in that sense it is of great importance and of a deep significance to us as Californians, because it is a stone in the foundation of our state. But the best that may be said of the men who took part in this particular event is that they builded better than they knew.

A party of boisterous men, armed to the teeth, led by one Ezekiel Merritt, entered our old town on June 14, seventy-eight years ago, and took possession of it. Without any apparent authority they betook themselves to the residence of the General, whom they made prisoner together with Don Salvador, Colonel Prudon and Jacob Leese. These men were forcibly taken to Sutter's Fort, after their captors had raised the Bear Flag in Sonoma and proclaimed the "Republic of California."

EL VERANO NEWS

the door as it slammed shut. The animal was sold the next day and its former owner considers himself very lucky at having escaped with nothing more than a very sore foot.

Friends of Jim McDonough are sorry to learn that he has been under the weather at his Agua Caliente home and hope for a rapid recovery.

The S. P. painters left Monday for St. Helena. The depot at this point in its new dress is a big improvement to the railroad and town.

Bert Trainor has left for San Francisco to spend the summer months with his folks.

Mrs. A. Fentress and Master W. McAuley have gone to Hornbrook to spend some time with relatives.

Mike Riddle, an early settler at Santa Rosa, and for many years a brakeman on the S. P., and well known here, celebrated his 81st birthday at his Santa Rosa home last week. The day was quietly spent at the family home in Santa Rosa, many friends calling and sending messages of congratulation.

J. Hendrickson and wife of San Francisco are spending several days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bomhoff.

Sixty thousand gallons of water escaped from the local S. P. water tank recently after the freight train had taken water, and flowed down the main line at the S. P. yards here. Many local vegetable growers were wishing they had all the water which went to waste, on their gardens, which need water these dry days. This is the second time within a few weeks that this has occurred.

Grasshoppers have invaded the western foothill section and are eating everything up. The pests are of a small size and are numbered in the thousands. It is said an attempt will be made to exterminate the undesirable visitors.

A. Hughes, who several years ago was an El Verano feed merchant, was in town last week renewing acquaintances. Hughes now resides in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Claud Lombard, Joe Springer and other San Francisco friends enjoyed a pleasant outing at the Lombard home Sunday.

Albert Rossi and family have been spending the week at Bodego Bay, where they have a summer cottage.

A gang of prohibition agents swooped down on Sonoma Valley soft drink empriums last Monday. Their efforts to local booze proved a failure and they left for parts unknown.

John Batto & Sons unloaded at their El Verano warehouse last Monday a carload of mixed feed, shipped in via the S. P.

William Bomhoff and wife have gone to Laytonville, Lake county, to enjoy a camping trip. Mr. Bomhoff is manager of the El Verano Lumber Company.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nufer and a party of friends are at their cozy summer cottage on Riverside Drive, and will spend several weeks here.

Mrs. J. Baker, Miss Jackson and Miss Buttner, who have been teaching at the local grammar school, have resigned their positions. Miss Jackson will return to her home in Napa while the principal, Mrs. Baker, will take a long rest before resuming the duties of an educator. She will first go to the Yosemite, and then to Idaho for a visit with her brother. Miss Buttner will return to Santa Rosa. El Verano school, after vacation, will have three new instructors.

George Higgins, of San Francisco is spending his school vacation at the Fleming home in Sonoma Vista.

Joe Escolle, apple king of Agua Caliente, reports a large crop and will soon harvest the fruit at his ranch in the northern section.

Bill Baines, the mosquito doctor, is busy around the summer resort section exterminating the biting insects, much to the delight of our summer girls, who tell the writer they are a greater pest than some of our Sonoma Valley shieks.

Miss Irene Ducasse and brother have gone to Lassan county to spend several weeks.

The El Verano Grammar School on last Thursday evening, June 19th, gave an interesting program at the school house, the scholars furnishing entertainment for their parents and other guests. Ice cream was also served and all report a pleasant evening. Twelve pupils, who will attend the Sonoma High School next term, were graduated, as follows: Irene Ducasse, Helen Taulis, Doris Baines, Florence Baines, Vernon Dahlquist, Raymond Stanley, Edward Oduime, Hugo Cogo, Henry Martin, Otto Steinkamp, Fred Tillmannshoefer and Albert Norrbom.

The item written by the correspondent at Schellville, in last week's news takes the writer back to those good old days that are gone forever. Many a time I think of the hay rides, and as I run my fingers through the few scattering hairs of my bald dome, I can picture you and your sweetie (now friend husband) flirting on the seat as he held the reins of a four horse team, with a crowd of merry-makers touring the Valley of the Moon. Prohibition was never thought of then and everybody was happy. That fair, fat and forty bachelor girl is acceptable to the writer, who has all the necessary qualifications except the dore-me, but has been looking for a rich widow and hopes before Leap Year is over his life time ambition will be fulfilled. A world famous writer tells husband-hunters never to marry a newspaper correspondent. He says they are never settled, are fickle, always looking for excitement that will make a story, lean towards a wandering life and have a sweetie in every port, but we would like to hear more of this Schellville winsome beauty. May I ask, is she a divorcee with bobbed hair, or just a charming lady of forty. Perhaps, if the writer wouldn't suit, we could recommend some one else. El Verano, you know, is the home of the elusive bachelor; that is why Archie McKiver has settled here. We have all kinds—the moneyed ones, the woman haters and the ladies' man, but before recommending any of our shieks we will motor to Schellville to look over the marrying one and on our way to your city, will pick up Easy Jim at Vineburg, who used to be a devil among the women. I dare say he might win the heart of the sweet lady.

Harry Burmester, of Dunn & Company, Oakland, and his fiancee, Miss Edna Jensen, former Sonoma high school instructor, were entertained at at the Burmester home here Sunday.

A scrap between Sonoma Valley's leading Beau Brummel and a local disciple of Terpsichore livened things up in old Sonoma in the wee hours of Sunday morning. Several blows were struck, one of the pugilists getting a cauliflower ear. Just as the scrap was becoming interesting, John Law appeared and after separating the fighters and giving them a little fatherly advice, sent them home to sleep off their animosity. The row is said to have been over a summer fairy.

Among recent arrivals who will spend the summer months at their cottages on picturesque Nob Hill are Mrs. T. Ellison and son, and Mrs. Schonbacher and friends. Charlie Blomstrom will also soon be back from a vacation at the Hotel de Boyes in Santa Rosa, and will reside at his cottage in this district.

BROTHER OF LATE MRS. ESHBACH HERE

J. H. Fox, a brother of the late Emma Eshbach, pioneer Sonoma lady who died recently, has been here from Ingomar, Montana, to settle up her estate. Mr. Fox was accompanied on the trip West by his wife. They were sorry not to arrive in time for Mrs. Eshbach's funeral, but express themselves as very grateful for the kindness accorded their relative in her declining years and at her death.

DOING GOOD BUSINESS AT BOYES SPRINGS

John Benedetto, who has an attractive refreshment parlor with up-to-date booths, at Boyes Springs near the bath house, reports business very good. Mr. and Mrs. Benedetto give a chicken and ravioli dinner on Sunday which has become quite popular.

Benedetto has traveled widely and was formerly in business at Atlantic City and Miami, Florida, before coming to Boyes.
